

Emma Rombaut

Emma started in 2021 at Yara and has since been involved in several blue and green ammonia projects. As Process lead for the CCS project in Sluiskil she is taking part in the development from Concept to Execution from up close.

Previous experience includes 7 years in Engineering at Worley, with a strong focus on innovative and sustainable projects.

She holds a master degree in Chemical engineering from Ghent university.